To whom it may concern;

It would appear that the American Dream has all but dissapeared inside the American Monopolies. I do not see any attempt by our government to even make an honest attempt to break up the, possibly biggest on earth, monopoly that is Microsoft.

Bill Gates and company have the resourses to buy their form of justice, and it would appear that they are succeeding very nicely. While they have billions of dollars to spend in an effort to remain the Top Dog, the true innovators in the computer indusrty are being stomped on by the Microsoft Monopoly. And, the DOJ appears to be totally unwilling to even make an honest attempt to rectify this blatant misbehavior of Micosoft's.

It simply furthers my opinion of government:
easily bought off by the highest bidder,
no moral character,
in office strictly for their on benefit,
and of no use to anyone.

Please prove me wrong.
